

Jimmie L. Maltbie

September 16, 1940 - November 12, 2014

Jimmie L. Maltbie

September 16, 1940 to November 12, 2014

Jimmie Maltbie, age 74, died Wednesday, November 12, 2014, at his home in Corvallis with his family by his side. He is survived by his former wife, Beverly Maltbie and by his children, daughters Becky Maltbie and Amy Maltbie, sons Jason Maltbie and Greg Maltbie and wife Tram, and granddaughter Heidi Maltbie.

He was preceded in death by his brother, Maurice.

Jimmie's family would like to thank Samaritan Evergreen Hospice for all their help and assistance. They did an outstanding job. If desired, memorials in Jimmie's name may be made to Samaritan Evergreen Hospice, 1046 Sixth Ave. SW, Albany, OR 97321

Please share your thoughts and memories for the family at www.demosdurdan.com

Comments

---

“ To all the family of Mr. Maltbie, I offer my sincere sympathy. I was so sorry to find his obit in the paper several days ago and informed my daughters, Sorrel and Marlyss. May you find some peace and rays of sunshine during this very difficult time.
Regretfully, Penny Signalness

penny signalness - November 24, 2014 at 03:31 PM

---

“ Becky Maltbie is following this tribute.

Becky Maltbie - November 19, 2014 at 01:33 AM

---

“ My condolences to the family on the loss of Jimmie. It is never an easy thing to lose a family member. Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with the family. I had met Jimmie one time, back in '96 or '97 (his daughter Becky and I worked for the same company).

Dan Wolfe - November 17, 2014 at 05:30 PM

---

“ My fondest memory of Jimmie occurred in 1993. Jimmie and I had to stay in Boston an extra week to attend more intensive computer training at Meditech. Since we had the weekend free, we decided to explore the history of Boston. We hiked to Bunker Hill and climbed the tower there. We then hiked to Old Ironsides and toured the ship and an old WWII destroyer and then the walked the Freedom Trail. After being totally exhausted we sat down and had a few Sam Adams and just talked.

Jimmie and I had many good times together. I always enjoyed his humorous insights. He was a great guy and he will be missed

Harlan Akers

Harlan Akers - November 17, 2014 at 11:21 AM