> Leon and I became good friends when we were in Grade school. I lived on Woods creek rd and he lived a little ways down on the highway. You could ALWAYS count on Leon. If he told you something it was so. He never had much money, but his friends could have cared less. He was a one of a kind!! Always had the strangest cars from Desoto's to an old Renault 4cv with suicide doors. We always took His cars to go party in, and always had a blast. I lost contact with him after I moved away after graduation, and when my kids were born, would often tell them stories of things he and my other friends got into and did, He was a true friend in every sense of the word. Never judging and always there. I was fortunate to spend some time with him the day before our reunion this summer and catch up on things, then spend some time with him at the reunion. He had a stroke while there and NEVER said a word. I asked him after that why he didn't say something and his reply was " I didn't want to spoil anyone's fun"!! Never thinking of himself!!!! I will miss him dearly, and will forever feel honored to have called him FRIEND!!! THEY BROKE THE MOLD WHEN THEY MADE HIM!!!
