She was born on October 4, 1938 to parents Bill and Mildred Gaylord of Portland, Oregon. “ I’m thankful for my Mom and the caring, individual care that she gave to me as her daughter, and to my kids. She gave countless prayers, hugs, kisses, reading time, phone calls, and her famous chocolate chip cookies that were always on hand and ready to serve.

She learned each of their personalities and looked for ways to encourage them and inspire them to serve others and always do their best.

We love her, miss her, and we will see her again in heaven!

Pictured with her are my kids (Kyler, Jeremy, and Julia).

“ While serving as the leader of the Jr. High Sunday School department at 1st Baptist Church in Bend, I found myself in need of a teacher for one of our girl's classes . . . eighth grade, as I recall. I really wanted Suzanne to take the class but she was leading the Junior Department at the time. She was doing an outstanding job - a trademark of her work! - and the department was thriving.

I carefully and prayerfully asked her if she would consider leaving the Junior Department to take the girls class. It wasn't long until she told me that she had been sensing a stirring in her spirit regarding her ministry. She agreed to take the class! Was I delighted! Why did I ask Suzanne to take the class? Because I could think of no better teacher for those girl's! And they loved her! She was a gracious and gifted lady. And an outstanding teacher!

“ I was one of the girls in the 8th grade class mentioned above, and yes, she was an outstanding teacher! As she sat at the head of the table, she had this habit of putting her elbows on the table in front of her, clasping her hands and rotating her wrists away from each other. Why I remember that, I have no idea, but every time she has come to mind over the years, I find myself clasping my hands and rotating my wrists! I always thought she was a beautiful, refined lady. But beyond that, I remember her eyes; eyes that consistently radiated love, kindness and intelligence, and eyes that twinkled when she laughed! Mrs. Knopp was gracious and gifted, indeed!
