“ I will always remember Betty for her kind, gentle, sweet spirit. She was a treasure!

When I visited her home for a week while I was a college student, I remember how thoughtful she was and how she immediately put me at ease. Betty showed me her fascinating stamp collection and I remember her teaching me card games while we were waiting for our food at a restaurant. Betty was always a cheerful presence and I enjoyed her company.

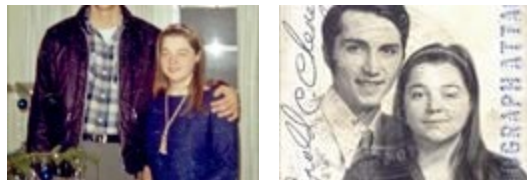

I still have some of the Christmas “cards” Betty would send to me through the years because each one was truly a gift. I admired her creativity and ability to add delicate touches of beauty to her “cards.” I simply couldn’t throw them away! They were so pretty!

I was sad when I lost touch with Betty, so I am truly looking forward to seeing her in heaven. We will rejoice and praise our Savior together at that sweet reunion!

“ Betty had a beautiful heart and a sweet disposition. She was also incredibly talented with calligraphy and her crafts. I got to know Betty many, many years ago, when I was young, and I have very pleasant memories of our visits then. I remember loving to hear her laugh then; it had a cheerful, sunny quality to it.

When I took on many responsibilities as an adult with little extra time, Betty primarily kept in touch with my mother over many years (and many miles between them). In recent years when I was caring for my mother, I became aware of Betty's continued and steadfast friendship with my mother, which was a friendship my mother valued and reciprocated. Betty was very kind and always sent my mother a gift for Christmas--in earlier years it was often something Betty had made, but in recent years, it was something she had purchased--and in all cases, the gift was thoughtful and attractive.

I am saddened she has passed away. This world has lost a lovely lady with a gentle soul. I am also deeply grateful she knew the Lord and had a relationship with Him for many years, so she is now well-loved, valued and joy-filled in Heaven. She must have laughed with pleasure when she met the Lord she had loved for so many years, the Lord who will also richly bless her for all eternity.

“ My summers with aunt Betty are something I've looked back on a lot and will forever cherish. I learned so much from games to arts and crafts, she had the days planned to a tee with something fun to do at every corner.
