“ Dennis was my best friend. You could say we grew up together as I met him when I was thirteen, I am now sixty eight. He was part of my family and like a brother. We were both paperboys for the San Jose Mercury News in California when we met.

All through life he was a gentle, caring and helpful friend. I could count on him no matter what was expected. He was always there for me and I hope it was mutual. I will never have another friend as close as Dennis was and I miss him deeply.

Months before he passed away, we talked of death. We made a pact with each other that who ever went first, would be there to greet the other when they arrived. It is a comfort to know I will see him again someday.

GOD bless and watch over his family as they go through this difficult time.
