“ I took care of Doug many times when he was admitted to the hospital. Doug always had a smile on his face and was always pleasant to visit with. He could usually be found with his colored pencils spread out all over the bed and the bedside table and where ever else he could put them. He loved coloring pictures of various animals, patterns, etc... He gave me a completed picture one evening when I came in to see him. The picture had been meticulously colored and had his signature in multiple spots inside the drawing. I saved that picture and when I look at it, it will always remind me to enjoy life one day at a time. Doug always had a smile on his face and was very appreciative of what he had. Doug told some amazing stories. Most often, the stories were of his wife, Tammy and how much he loved her. Tammy was obviously the love of his life. His face lit up when he spoke about her. He couldn't wait for her to get off work and come visit him in the hospital each day. I take care of many people and some of them make a lasting impression on me. I have never met someone like Doug before and I am blessed that I got to meet him and Tammy. I know that Doug's passing has left a huge hole in Tammy's world because anyone who was in their presence could see and feel the love that Tammy and Doug had for each other. Tammy, I hope you are able to find peace and move forward. I pray that the hurt will get less with each passing day. Keep faith in the fact that you and Doug will be together again one day. Rest in Peace, Doug.

“ Despite his numerous medical problems, Doug never complained and always had a smile or would share a laugh. He truly found silver linings in the darkest clouds. I hope he's at peace now. Condolences to his family.
