

Eileen Horning

July 18, 1942 - January 27, 2026

Eileen Horning, 83, passed away on January 27, 2026, at Bonaventure of Albany. Born in New York, she moved to Oregon to attend and graduate from Pacific University, eventually settling in Corvallis for over 50 years.

Eileen worked in her adopted home town as a librarian at the public library, a hospice aide, and a special education aide at schools throughout the local school district before enjoying many years of retirement with friends, family, and loved ones. She was a scholarship athlete who ascended Mount Hood, finished the Trail's End Marathon, and pitched for many years on a city league softball team. Throughout her life she enjoyed playing several instruments at summer camp, the community band, and other places. Her love of music and the performing arts was passed on and endures as a part of her legacy.

Eileen is survived by two sons and her grandchildren and was preceded in death by her daughter. In lieu of flowers, the ARC (thearc.org) and the American Cancer Society (www.cancer.org) support causes that were close to her heart. A celebration of life will be held at Bonaventure of Albany on Sunday, February 22, at 10AM.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Eileen for several years at Jefferson Elementary School. We shared many laughs and whenever I was going through something tough, Eileen could sense it and would give the kindest and most heartfelt words of encouragement. When we saw each other years later, around town, it was a wonderful surprise and we'd always catch up!! I still have and treasure the Willow angels that she got for me over the years that we spent together at school. What a gem. Heaven sure gained a spectacular and amazing soul. Miss you Eileen. Love and hugs to her family and those closest to her. 🍷🍷🍷 love, Deanna Yoba
