

Eloise Bass

October 14, 1927 - September 26, 2007

Eloise Bass of Corvallis died Wednesday, Sept. 26, at Good Samaritan Regional Medical Center. She was 79.

She was born in Tooele, Utah, to Karl Marx and Martha Elva Lewis Coonrod. She married Carl Eugene Bass on March 27, 1970.

Eloise was a longtime resident of Corvallis, where she was an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Her deepest desire was to serve the Lord through serving others. Family history and genealogy were a very important part of her life.

In her youth she was part of a national bowling league. Throughout her life she also loved dancing, singing, swimming, ceramics, painting, knitting and other arts and crafts. She also touched many lives with her poetry.

Eloise owned her own restaurant, The Peaker Café, where she shared her love of cooking with others and made everyone feel at home.

Eloise was preceded in death by her first husband, Wilbur "Red" Lewis Twilleager; brothers Karl Cecil Coonrod and Thomas James Coonrod; son Daniel Boone Bass; and granddaughter Theresa Ann Whipps.

Survivors include her husband, Carl Eugene Bass of Corvallis; sons Karl Wayne Twilleager of Spanaway, Wash., and Michael Anthony Bass of Corvallis; daughter Karen Lea Stark of Philomath; sister Helen Lewis Lucht of Molalla; 23 grandchildren; and 25 great-grandchildren.

Her great love was her family. She was the center of our lives. She blessed the lives of all who knew her.

A memorial service will be at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5, at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on Harrison Boulevard. A room to honor her will be available beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Tribute Wall

“ Always welcomed her all her son's friends into home and treated them like family.
Sorry for your loss, Karl and all your family

Larry Witham - December 11, 2018 at 04:46 AM