“ I very much enjoyed seeing Glenn and his warm smile almost every time I visited my Mom, Doris Coleman, at Park Place. He was always smiling. He and my Dad (Henry) were buddies at Calvin. It was great to have someone so welcoming since my parents came to Calvin less than 10 years ago. I told him once that he brightened everyone's day who worked there and many of us who visit. It's great that he was so aware and living each day as well as he did and still showing concern for others too. He always asked how my mother was, and that was very thoughtful and giving of him. He was always friendly with her even though she has had trouble leaving her room for the last year or so. I told him how much I appreciated, as did my mother, that he brought her Calvin programs. Keeping her connected was a challenge and he made it better, helping others to the end.

“ Evan, Martha, Matt and Allie,
I was so sad to read of Glenn's passing in the paper. I'm especially sorry that I was unable to see him these last few weeks. It was an honor to know your Dad and grandfather at Park Place. He was so faithful to attend our devotion times each week, rarely missing a day. He was always encouraging to me and his remarks always were evident of his strong faith in Jesus as his Savior. I will especially miss his strong singing voice. He always hit the notes that I would squeak and he'd give me a wink that made me smile. May God bless you as you adjust to life without him. Paul sends his condolences as well.
