“ *Since both John and I were at OSU and both in the same general region on campus, I enjoyed the opportunity to see him in the lab and recognize the respect and appreciation his colleagues had for him as an integral member of their research teams. In addition, as he took on the repeater controller responsibility from me for the BCARES 2m station on Mary's Peak, we had many fantastic times together. I shall remember his wit, technical knowledge and especially his joy of sharing his time and talents with folks learning amateur radio and becoming contributing members to the emergency services community. “ John Stanley was a treasure in ARES and as a Benton County Emergency Management and Search and Rescue volunteer. The knowledge, experience and skill that he contributed helped our programs develop into an outstanding and life-saving resource.

John was a reliable asset, quick to assist in any situation, and was a particular pleasure to work with - especially as missions became long or difficult. He was an outstanding, patient and generous teacher and shared his wealth of knowledge with anyone who asked.

Rest well, John.

John was an instrumental member of the Civil Air Patrol Salem Composite Squadron. He freely gave of his time and talents, which made us a better unit and more importantly better people. I will miss his sense of humor and friendship. I had the privilege of seeing him a few weeks ago, when he knew his time was short. He expressed his thanks and said "it was an honor" and "it was fun" when I asked him about his thoughts regarding Civil Air Patrol. God Speed John.

Thanks John for have been such a nice person. I feel blessed to have meet you and lived as your friend.

As people use to say, "the earth has become a sadder place without you but the sky now is getting brighter with another shinning star".

Rest in peace my brother!
