“ Anne, Susan, and Mary Beth,
Laurie was the first female altar server at Sacred Heart in Pullman. After seeing Laurie up there, I was trained, too. The first time we served together was great. When we were in the back after Mass taking off the server clothes, Laurie suggested we meet after work sometime for a drink, and I agreed. Father later said that he'd heard many conversations among his altar servers, but this was the first time he'd heard them plan to go drinking! Anyway, we met once a month or so. Then Marge became a server, and we asked her to join us, which she did. Then Karen joined us, then Pat and Irene and Lucille. And the Good 'Ol Girls tried to meet once a month for dinner, drinks, and good conversation. Each December, Laurie would host us at her place, which was beautifully decorated for Christmas. She made dinner, and wouldn't hear of us bringing anything. It was her treat! Before she moved to the coast, Laurie had us over and gave each of us something to remember her by. She gave me a number of her lovely earrings and asked if I would like her Stephen Foster chair. It fit perfectly in the back of my car that night, and I think of Laurie every time I sit in it. Please accept my sincere condolences. Laurie was a wonderful friend—a good listener, a good laughter, and a good hugger. Kathylu Szabo

“ We met Lorraine shortly after she and Ed moved to Anacortes. We owned Sheelys Floral and Lorraine was a frequent customer. More than a customer though she was one that never hesitated to shared encouragement, a smile, or a big hug. Our dog loved her too and always met her at the door. We will miss her but always carry the good memories of the good conversations. Your Mom was special.
