“ Norm was the most kind pharmacist I have had the pleasure of working with. He was so smart; he was not only a pharmacist but had a masters in Biochemistry. He had chestnut brown hair. I have so many memories of him, but one of my favorites is when I told him a lady from college was putting me down and said she thought my husband was going to ask her out instead of me. Norm told me, "Look who got the guy" I still grieve over his death. One thing that helped me was dedicating a song, Say Goodbye by Lauren Kinkade. So many people responded on Facebook, because he was so kind to others.
