“ My grandmother was an amazing woman. She was an inspiration to me growing up, and now that she is gone there will certainly be a void in my life. Grandma taught me about important things like: being assertive and saying what needs to be said, never caring about what others may think of you, and always remaining true to yourself. The world has certainly lost a rare gem. May you rest in peace Grandma. I love you with all of my heart. Bye for now...
