Patricia Eileen Brodkorb

Feb 13, 1929-Dec. 14, 2014.

Patricia was born in Hillsboro to Forest and Letha Garrigus, and grew up at Devils Lake at the Oregon Coast.

She graduated from the Oregon State College School of Pharmacy and became a pharmacist, owning the Philomath Drug Store from 1958 until the mid-1970s, then becoming a “pill pusher for hire,” working all over the state, including several years with the Bi-Mart chain.

Pat was preceded in death by her father; mother; husband, Bob; brother, Forest Jr. (Gus); sister, Alice; and son, Donald.

Pat spent the last 45 months at Regent Court in Corvallis, and the family owes them a great debt of gratitude. Mom spent the last five years in the firm grasp of dementia, but during that time, she revisited her childhood and even created an entirely new story of her life, going on wild adventures without ever leaving her room.

Pat is survived by son Larry and grandson Niall; son Keith and grandchildren Heather, Jason, Katrina, Sasha and Sean; and daughter Eileen and granddaughter Ashley. Mom will be missed, but she now is on her next journey.

Pat requested no services, and shortly after the first of the year, her ashes, together with Bob's and Don's, will be set loose at Devils Lake.
