

Randall K. Barker

November 29, 1960 - June 1, 2020

My husband, Randall Kevin Barker, born Sioux City, Iowa 1960, he was the most amazing, beautiful, kind, and gentle man I've ever met in my whole entire life. I'm so blessed to know him, love him, and him love me. We are so very, very grateful that we have five children between the two of us, Melanie, Matt, Lisa, Chad, and Brandon. He loved you very, very much. We are also very blessed to have grandchildren Jazmond, Caleb, Jordyn, Nicholas, Madisyn, Mason, Mia Grace, Odin, and one more child coming. Your Papa loves you very much., he will miss you. You have a lot of good memories with him, for that we are grateful.

Randy was a huge pet lover and had two dogs Bella, and Doobie.. Randy has seven siblings Barb, Patty, Janice, Jim, Ray, Connie and Jackie, and many nieces and nephews, whom he loved very much.. Randy's mother, Marilyn Peters, was one of the most beloved and most important people in his life. Everyday she's been gone and brought him great sadness. Now he can be with her and have peace, and that, I know, puts a smile on his face.

Randy's favorite color is blue, his lucky number was 15, and his favorite car was his Corvette. Randy like all kinds of music and was a fan of all of Tupac Shakur albums. We both loved Sarah Evans and had one of her songs at our wedding. More recently, Randy's favorite song was Stay, by Sugarland.

Randy was a man of many talents and yes, at times, he lived a colorful life. He was extremely good at auto mechanics and that made him happy. It gave him a sense of pride. I just have to say that loving you and you loving me has been the most amazing, natural, beautiful life that I could ever ask for. Was it perfect, no, but it was pretty perfect. We were together 20 years, and 18 years of that was absolutely perfect. I am grateful that we were able to share such a special kind of love. All that mattered was that we loved each other through thick and thin, richer or poorer, in sickness and in health, till death do us part. I love you Randall Kevin Barker, you complete me. You are my one and only love for the rest of my life. May you rest in peace.

“ Randy was a classmate of mine in South Sioux City. We went to kindergarten together as well as later school years. Back in the day, during half day kindergarten, we had a milk break. You could have chocolate or white milk, that came in a little carton. The teacher assigned you with a partner to go to the milk cooler just down the hallway, collect the milk for the class, in a big basket, counting out the number of chocolate and white cartons needed to fill the class order. Randy was my partner. Once or twice a month, it was our job to collect the milk, carry it to the classroom and pass out the milk to our classmates. I was little, so the reach into the cooler was hard for me, we quickly figured out that Randy would have to stand on the step and pass the milk out to me and I would put it in the basket. He would take one handle and I would take the other and we would carefully carry the basket to our classroom. He would pass out all the chocolate milk and I would pass out the white.

I'm sorry for your loss, I hope that your sadness, soon, gives way to happy memories.

Sincerely,

Claudia (Ferris) Horner

“ I know Randy loved his wife Lori very much. The 2 of them were meant to be together. He was so cute when he'd bring something home for Lori. He had picked a flower on his way home for her and handed it to her with the biggest smile on his face. So cute. We'll miss you dearly Randy. But your now at peace.

“ Thinking of you dad. Tonight I cooked corn on the cob and it brought a smile to my face thinking about how you always cut the kernels off the cob. Mark always laughs at how I eat but I will always remember how you ate a baked potato too. Smash out the inside, add lots of butter and pepper. You loved your sweets as well and I know where I get it. I miss you so much 💕💕
