“ I knew Roy for over 30yrs. He sold me my first car. He rode with me when I worked for the Sheriff's Office, and we were in the Oregon Knife Collectors club together.

He was a gifted bladesmith, and was sorely missed when the club announced his passing. He sold me one of his skinning knives several years ago but made me promise that I'd actually use it. He didn't want his knives to sit in a drawer, he wanted them used in the field. I've used it many times.

Roy had a wisdom about him that I will miss. He always had a thoughtful and kind approach. I count him as a friend.

I will miss him.
