“ Our home was on Ruth's route during her regular walks in the neighborhood. I was often in the vegetable garden as she, and her ever present dog, walked by. Ruth never failed to stop and chat and visit, covering a wide range of very engaging topics. I have missed her and hope her family holds on to lovely and loving memories of her.

We'll remember Ruth as full of energy, ideas and observations. The idea of someone her age taking off to Paris gives me hope for the opportunities in old age. She wasn't happy with her decline over the last year, but led a full life and was ready to go. We read the Elephant Whisperer together after she recommended it. I'm only sorry I missed her on my trips to Albany; 2 months ago she was sick and didn't want to share it and last time on the 18th, I had a bad cold. She may not even have been at her apartment then. I'll miss her and hope your memories of her are of a unique and kind individual.

Thank you both for writing. It means a lot to me and my sister, Barb.

“ We will always remember Ruth as our friendly neighbor who loved to chat and to keep herself healthy by getting out and walking the neighborhood. Her vigor and her keen interest in people and events, even in her later years, were inspiring. Our condolences to her family.
