“ Any man generous enough to open his house to a graduate student and her puppy is special, and Ted was that guy for me. I have wonderful memories of Ted, his two dogs Zeus and Boogie, and how great it was to have a beautiful house in the woods to go home to after a day of sorting samples in the lab at Oregon State University. Ted was always willing to talk about real things, to tell me about his day- and to overlook the misdeeds of my young boxer. Though I lost touch with Ted- I still have vivid memories of the time I spent as his tenant- and I think of him and my time in Philomath often. My world is a bit dimmer now that Ted's light has moved on- but I like to think that he remains amused as I still try to train my dogs.

“ Ted loved his dogs and his truck and living in his house in the woods. He was a hard worker who always showed up early for work. He was honest and generous in his business dealings. He was a good friend and is missed. Ronald G. Rhatigan
