I met Tim in the late seventies while working in the same office selling real estate. We were roommates for a period, playing the odd couple, each of us having a totally different personality from the other. It is amazing who God puts in our lives to grow us.

One of my fondest memories of Tim was when he took me to his vacation home by the ocean beach near Tillamook. There he taught me how to shore fish for ocean perch. I will also always remember his unique laughter.

My condolences to Susan and Kirstin and the rest of Tim's family.
