“ Goodness, I loved you, Zachary. I loved how I'd ask you about the things my young mind wouldn't comprehend and you'd explain to me in the simplest of ways. I loved with how much passion you cooked meals for yourself and your friends. I loved watching you fix your cute beard, I loved watching you scratch Octy and how you'd tell her "Hop on!". I loved translating Romanian love poems and read them to you. I loved telling you about what I had learnt for my History exam and how you'd listen to me. I loved how you'd kiss me goodnight and "tuck me in" over the phone. I loved telling you to drive safely on your way to and from work. I loved you with my entire being and I wanted to become your wife. I wanted to call myself the bride of this man I admired and looked up to so much. I wish you let me be there for you. I wish I knew and that I could stop you. I hug tightly the plushies you've sent me and I sleep in the T-shirt you gave me.

I used to call you my husband-to-be, but now you are the groom of my soul, forever until my very last breath. Though your heart is no longer beating, my heart will continue to pound remembering about your smile, your gorgeous green eyes, your adorable giggles. My beloved Zachy...

I promise I will make it to your grave someday.

To his friends and family who don't know about me, my name is Larisa Bianca. Zachy and I had been in a very close relationship before we recently fell apart. We loved each other very, very, very much. We supported each other and though we were both in unstable state of minds, we helped one another pull it through. We helped each other live, but I failed. I will be lighting a candle for my darling and adorable Zachy all the way from Romania. I will never love a man as I loved Zachary. I am completely devastated, my body is shaking and I feel so helpless. The only man I have ever loved no longer exists. I will never hear, see or talk to him again. The memory of Zachy will never cease to exist in my soul, heart and mind. Each time I will look up to the sky from now on, I will smile, knowing he watches over me, making sure I am a good student, like he has always asked of me. I loved this man more than I cared about my own being.

“ Zachary, age 30, was born at home in Sutherlin, Oregon. He attended K-12 in Sutherlin, then received his BS in Recreation Resource Management, as part of the Forestry School at Oregon State University. He was employed at Beta Seed in Albany where he worked as a Quality Control Technician. He enjoyed his job and coworkers very much.

He was a true foodie who made cooking, (and eating) a fun art, and sometimes a sport. All holidays, monthly home visits, and day trips, involved calls, texts, and lists, about food, as he was always trying out new and exotic recipe's involving hot foods, spices, and a perpetual quest for the hottest chili's ever!

He had many loves, music, singing (in the shower), gundham, Anime, Cosplay, Warhammer 40K, Star Wars, building models of Mechs, and painting miniatures.

He was also an artist who enjoyed drawing and painting pictures, an avid reader and history buff, A Rock hound, a hiker, and a lover of animals, especially birds.

He had a truly phenomenal sense of humor.

He leaves behind his parents Francine King-Rose and Sarah Rose; his brothers, Sasha Rose and Vincent Rose; his friends, Amy, Steve, Tyson, Colin; and so many more who knew him and loved him; and his beloved cat, Octavia.

Although we can never understand why he chose to end his life, we honor his memory and respect his right to make his own decision regarding his own body.

At 6'4" Zachary was a big guy with a huge personality. A large presence with a big booming voice. He will be missed so much by so many for the rest of our lives. Zachary, we will love you forever.

“ I remember Zachary being a little bit running around when I would clean his Moms' house! Such an adorable boy. Very loving and loved his family! I'm so sorry for your lost. You ate in my prayers and thoughts.

“ We had only had the pleasure of meeting Zach on one occasion when we went to help move our son Tyson but through their very close friendship and all the stories we would hear about their many adventures weather it be cooking, eating, rock hounding, going to the coast or the many other things they did together we feel like we knew him well. So heart broken by the news of his passing I always told Tyson that I wanted to join them for the many great meals Zach made, they always sounded so good. Condolences to his family and friends

“ I got to work with Zach this last June out in Tangent. He was a good team mate, eager to help, and a good conversationalist. He helped to make a sometimes tedious job pleasant! My heartfelt condolences to his family and friends.

“ I worked with Zach at Betaseed in Tangent Oregon. We went on a work trip last year to Kimberly Idaho and it was great to get to know him more. He picked such a perfect restaurant for us to eat at. He really had great taste in food. He also was very kind to get the door for you as we would leave at the same time from work. He will be missed for sure. I’m so sorry, my condolences to the family.

My sincere heartfelt condolences to his family. I only met him a few times though I am his aunt-in-law. I send him love and light from deep within my heart. I know that his spirit is eternally bright and that this world can be a heavy place to be. I honor his decision and bless his heart.
